

General

Definition: A returned item is anything a customer ships back to Wonderware California for any reason.

Before returning any product, the customer must get a Return Material Authorization (RMA) Number from Wonderware California Customer Service at (866) 966-3376. Customer Service will e-mail the customer a Shipping Form. An RMA number goes into effect the day it is issued and is active for thirty (30) days. All shipments to Wonderware California must be identified with this RMA number. The shipping form must be included or the shipment will be refused.

The customer is responsible for all return freight charges. All products must be returned to Wonderware California's Healdsburg Office at the following address:

Attn: RMA # _____ (Fill in the RMA # you receive here)
Wonderware California
126 Mill Street
Healdsburg, CA 95448

The various classifications of returns are outlined below. Any special instructions for that type of return are included within that section.

Order Entry & Shipping Errors

Definition: The product the customer received from Wonderware California is not what is listed on the packing list, OR the wrong part was listed on Wonderware California's order for the customer. The customer must report all order entry and shipping errors within thirty (30) days of shipment.

Conditions for Return

- The product must be in the original sealed box.
- All instruction manuals must be returned.
- All connectors and any other associated parts must be returned.
- Absolutely NO pen markings must show on the box (even those referencing the RMA number).
- Software will not be accepted if the original packaging has been opened. If the seals are broken, the software will be returned to the customer.

Restocking Fee

A restocking fee may be charged and some or all items may be refused upon inspection (see Credit Calculation Schedule below).

Product Replacement

A new product will be shipped immediately from Wonderware California stock, if available. This advanced replacement will be invoiced to the customer. A credit will be issued when the incorrect item is received and Wonderware California has received credit from the vendor.

Customer Requested Return (Accommodation Return)

Definition: The customer returns a product for any reason other than a shipping error, warranty or repair. This includes, but is not limited to, customer design changes, project changes or customer order errors. All customer requested returns must be reported within thirty (30) days of shipment.

Conditions for Return

- The product must have been purchased from Wonderware California.
- Software cannot be returned.
- The product cannot be a custom or special order item.
- The product must be in re-sellable condition.
- The product must be in the original sealed box.
- The product must be the current version and revision.
- The product must be a currently available product.
- All instruction manuals must be returned.
- All connectors and any other associated parts must be returned.
- Absolutely NO pen markings must show on the box (even those referencing the RMA number).

Conditions for Credit

The credit amount will be determined using the Credit Calculation Schedule below. Some or all items may be refused upon inspection. Only account credit will be given, when applicable. No cash refunds will be made.

Return for Repair

| Definition: The customer returns a product to Wonderware California for repair after the warranty period has expired.

The customer must return the item to Wonderware California's Healdsburg office using the correct shipping label format (see General).

The product will be returned to the manufacturer for repair or replacement. The customer will be quoted a repair price and the repair order must have a customer purchase order before the product can be shipped to the manufacturer. Standard ground freight charges are included in the quoted repair price. If overnight or other fast delivery methods are requested by the customer, additional freight charges will be added.

Please Note: It is the responsibility of the customer to backup any data, software or other materials that may be stored or preserved on the unit. It is likely that such data, software, or other materials will be lost or reformatted during service and Wonderware California will not be responsible for any such damage or loss. Wonderware California also recommends the removal of all peripheral equipment (such as backup batteries and software disks) from the unit before submitting it since their return cannot be guaranteed.

Warranty

| Definition: The product fails while under warranty.

Conditions for Return

- The product must still be in warranty based on its date code or be covered by a recall.
- Wonderware California must have sold the product within the product's warranty code or within the recall dates.
- If there is a MACHINE DOWN situation, a replacement unit may be supplied to the customer from the manufacturer, if available. Otherwise the unit shipped in for repair will be returned to the customer.

The customer is responsible for all return freight charges. All products must be returned to Wonderware California's Healdsburg office using the correct shipping label format (see General). Standard ground freight to ship products from Wonderware California to the manufacturer and from the manufacturer to the customer are included in the Warranty. If overnight or other fast delivery methods are requested by the customer, the cost of those freight charges will be billed to the customer.

The product will be returned to the manufacturer for repair or replacement from the manufacturer's service inventory. A replacement will not be sent from Wonderware California inventory.
